INTERNATIONAL WORKERS’ DAY

May Day is an annual celebration of workers’ struggle against capitalism. Its origins lie in the general strike for an eight-hour working day put down by police gunfire in Chicago in 1886. Its history teaches us the power of the working class to transform society, and the need to overturn the capitalist state.

Our links with the organised working class, the agent of socialist change, are fundamental to our work. Each year, the Socialist asks groups of workers and trade unionists for financial contributions to help maintain the revolutionary workers’ press. This year we have again broken our records, printing over 120 greetings, and raising over £8,000.

What we stand for

■ Fighting for jobs, pay and services: national action to defeat the cuts and privatisation
■ For trade unions to mobilise and take up the fight against the far right, for an anti-racist, anti-austerity message of jobs, homes and services, not racism
■ For union democracy: no to political witch-hunts, and for full, genuine lay control over the union by the members
■ For genuine workers’ political representation

Socialist Party members in

UNISON

the public service union

Fight for jobs, pay and services

■ National action is needed to defeat the cuts and privatisation; don’t leave branches to fight alone
■ A real end to pay restraint and low pay in the public sector - build the fight for public sector-wide action
■ Build a campaign within the health sector to reopen the NHS pay talks and fight for a genuine fully funded deal
■ Labour councils: stand up against the cuts now and set no-cuts, needs budgets using reserves and borrowing powers
■ An incoming Labour government to return the billions stolen from councils by government since 2010
■ For nationally coordinated action to defeat the ‘alternative care providers’, ‘wholly owned subsidiaries’ and ‘STP’ cuts and privatisation plans
■ For an end to privatisation of public services, and to bring all those privatised back in-house, including the energy companies and probation service
■ A Labour government must cancel all ‘PFI’ private contracts, write off the debts, and bring the services back in-house - no compensation for the big corporations
■ Renationalisation of the NHS
■ A Labour government must scrap all privately run ‘academies’ and bring all schools back under the democratic control of councils, with governing bodies to be democratically elected
■ Support abortion rights for the women of Northern Ireland

For genuine workers’ political representation

■ Not a penny of members’ money to those MPs and councillors attacking Jeremy Corbyn
■ Demand all MPs are accountable - for the mandatory reselection of all Labour MPs, with the right of the unions to nominate onto parliamentary shortlists
■ For a new ‘Clause IV’ with a commitment to a democratic, socialist society, based on the common ownership of the means of production, distribution and exchange
■ Restore policy-making power to Labour Party conference - abolish the ‘national policy forum’
■ Reinstate socialists who have been unfairly expelled or excluded, and ensure their right to be organised
■ Allow the affiliation of socialist parties and anti-austerity, anti-racist, socialist-feminist and green campaigns and organisations, in a version of the early federal structure of the Labour Party

Union democracy

■ For a general secretary on a worker’s wage - no to the £134,000 a year currently paid
■ Put the union’s money where the fight is - more resources to the branches, not at the centre
■ For the right of the union’s national conference to debate any issue or rule change it choses, including the political funds
■ Defend branches’ rulebook right to campaign to change, modify or replace union policy, including opposing pay claims, free from interference by unelected union officials
■ For the election of full-time union officials on a worker’s wage - an end to unelected full-time officials calling the shots
My Marxist outlook pointed out to me with an illuminating clarity that women’s liberation could take place only as the result of the victory of a new social order and a different economic system...

It is only in revolutionary struggle against the capitalists of every country, and only in union with the working women and men of the whole world that we will achieve a new and brighter future — the socialist fraternity of the workers...

— Alexandra Kollontai, Bolshevik leader

Socialist Party South West branches in Bristol, Gloucestershire, Swindon, Somerset, Exeter and East Devon, Torbay, Plymouth, Cornwall and Bournemouth/Poole, send revolutionary greetings to all workers and youth struggling against decaying capitalism.
One hundred years ago, in March 1919, the founding Congress of the Third International took place in Moscow, attended by just 51 delegates who braved allied blockades, arrest and other privations to meet in solidarity with the leadership of those who just two years before had overthrown capitalism in Russia. Hosted in the Kremlin by Lenin and the Russian Communist Party leadership, Leon Trotsky’s ‘Manifesto of the Communist International to the Workers of the World’ was unanimously endorsed, and its stirring finale continues to echo down the ages and inspire us as we uphold the spotless banner of genuine Marxism in the struggle to build the new socialist world.

“Bourgeois world order has been sufficiently lashed by socialist criticism. The task of the International Communist Party consists in overthrowing this order and erecting in its place the edifice of the socialist order. We summon the working men and women of all countries to unite under the Communist banner which is already the banner of the first great victories. Workers of the World - in the struggle against imperialist barbarism, against monarchy, against the privileged estates, against the bourgeois state and bourgeois property, against all kinds and forms of class or national oppression - unite!”

The trade union movement is the largest democratic movement in society.

It’s the first and last line of defence for millions of working people.
