

Stop the union-busters!

Come to the 9th annual NSSN conference: Saturday July 4th

11am-4.30pm. Conway Hall 25 Red Lion Sq, London WC1R 4RL.

Confirmed speakers include: Mark Serwotka, PCS General Secretary & Ronnie Draper, BFAWU General Secretary (£6 per delegate/visitor)

London Busworkers
- Bow Garage

The very right of trade unions to exist and organise effectively is under threat. PCS is currently facing the single biggest attack of any union since Thatcher targeted the NUM in 1984.

But they aren't alone. Union reps are facing victimisation and cuts to facility-time, all for the same reason - to weaken unions in order to leave workers defenceless in the face of the austerity offensive. We have no choice but to resist. This conference is a vital forum to help organise that resistance.

Who we are
The Network is for rank and file TUC affiliated trade union workplace representatives but all trade unionists and anti-cuts campaigners - young and old - are welcome at our meetings and actions.

The NSSN has campaigned for mass co-ordinated strike action, up to and including a 24 hour general strike to fight the cuts. We are part of the Hungry for Justice/Fast Food Rights campaign against zero-hour contracts and for £10 per hour minimum wage.

What we do
The Network exists to support workers in struggle. We campaign for justice in the workplace, workers' rights, solidarity, equality and union freedom. We fight the bosses' victimisation and the blacklist. Visit the website or contact us to find out more.

"If we are to roll back the tide of privatisation and war, rebuilding the grassroots of our movement is essential."

Bob Crow, General Secretary RMT 2002-14

How we can help you

Do you have a campaign or dispute which needs support? The Network website and email list reaches hundreds of activists.

Contact us at the details below so we can publicise your struggle.

We can put you in touch with Network supporters in your union/sector/area.

How you can join

Individual membership is £5. Minimum affiliation is £50 for each union organisation, including branches, shop stewards committees and trades councils.

Affiliate your union branch to NSSN

The NSSN was initiated by the RMT in 2006. Eight national unions – RMT, PCS, CWU, NUM, POA, NUJ, BFAWU & NAPO – officially support our campaigning work, as well as many union branches, shop stewards committees and trades councils. Affiliation to the NSSN is £50. Make cheques out to NSSN and post to PO Box 54498, London E10 9DE

We have a website, Facebook group, twitter account, and a regular weekly e-bulletin. All are available to trade unionists and their organisations to publicise their disputes, events etc.

Please feel free to use these platforms. Invitations to speak at your union meetings are also welcome.
